Townsend Old Age Pension Plan Urged by Supervisors

CONGRESS ASKED TO ADOPT FEDERAL PENSION PROGRAM

Unanimous Action Taken by Officials as Resolution Is Approved

Supervisors of this county are today on record favoring adoption of the Townsend old age pension plan, giving maximum pensions of $200 a month to all persons over 60 years of age

A resolution endorsing the general welfare act and asking Congress to pass legislation suggested by Dr. F. E. Townsend was adopted by the county supervisors yesterday. In view of the fact that Congress has adjourned the resolution will not get official attention until another session is held in Washington. Copies of the resolution, however, will be sent to Congressman Harry R. Sheppard and Senators William G. McAdoo and Hiram W. Johnson.

The general welfare act provides for a transaction tax of 2 per cent. The supervisors' resolution asks the House and Senate to enact an adequate old age pension program with a fair distribution of the financial responsibility to all taxpayers.

The resolution follows:

'The old age pension program now operating in the several states of the union is wholly inadequate to provide the necessities of life for the aged.

"Any old age pension legislation that will adequately provide for aged citizens in all of the states of the union, without discrimination, must necessarily be a federal program and to fairly distribute the financal responsibility, some form of a general consumers tax must be levied by he federal government."

The resolution was unanimously adopted after the supervisors had conferred with S. L. Wingert, leader of the General Welfare League in San Bernardino.

MRS. MARSHALL IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Mr. Marshall escaped with only minor injuries, but the car was so badly damaged it had to be towed into Santa Barbara and left there.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall sent word to their nephew, Francis S. Wagner of Alta Loma, who went up to Santa Barbara for them, returning to Alta Loma at about 2 o'clock the next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall had spent their vacation at Carmel, taking a cottage there while Mr. Marshall participated in the recent big golf tournament. They were enroute home when the accident occurred, having come by Santa Barbara to witness the annual Spanish fiesta.

UNWANTED YOUTH TELLS POLICE OF CRIME ACTIVITY

Two Pals and Youth Held in Jail Here Face Juvenile Court Action

When a youth, who is now 14 years of age, concluded several years ago he was unwanted by anyone, he began to steal his way through life and today he was scheduled to face county authorities. With him before the court in San Bernardino will be two other youths, who for some time have been stealing auto accessories, flash lights and other articles from automobiles.

Names of the three youths are not being made public as police and other authorities hope to rebuild them and give them a new start. One of the trio spent yesterday in the Upland jail. The boys were arrested in Ontario Sunday night and Monday.

The youth held in the Upland jail for Ontario recounted to Police Chief Ernest Mehl today his story. He told of 'good money" his father made and of how he squandered it on liquor. The father died five years ago and two months later his mother was taken. The lad and his brothers and sisters then lived with relatives, friends, in orphans homes and elsewhere. Some of the children were adopted but the 14-year old youth jumped from one place to another.

Five years ago he began to pick up things. Some of what he stole he could eat. Other things he could sell.

Ontario police, however, caught up with him Sunday night when he and a companion were charged with entering five stores. A third lad was arrested later yesterday. The three were taken to San Bernardino this afternoon.

Extra! Extra! Extra! Pastor Turns Magician

No doubt it is news when a minister turns magician. But such was the case when Rev. Rex E. Lawhead, pastor of the Upland Presbyterian church entertained members of the Rotary club and guests today noon at the Upland Inn. Rev. Lawhead, who uses tricks of magic in interesting the young people of the church, also drawing lessons from the various stunts, did a little preaching to the Rotarians in the same way today. It was an excellent demonstration of the fact that 'the hand is quicker than the eye" Now—if Pastor Lawhead can bring a number of Rotarians—and others—"into the fold" he will have accomplished another bit of magic.

Preceding Rev. Lawhead's stunts in magic he conducted a spelling contest—which demonstrated the fact that it will also take a bit of magic to transform some Rotarians into good spellers. Fifteen words were given — and misspelled wodrs cost the Rotarians a nickel each, resulting in quite a flow of hard cash into the club treasury.

The meeting was presided over by President Neil Hickcox of Etiwanda, while the speaker was presented by Charles V. Barr.

PENSION CASES DOUBLE IN YEAR

Number on County Rolls Now Twice as Many as in 1936, Report

More than twice as many pension cases were on the San Bernardino welfare department rolls Auguest 1 than at the same time in 1936, Mrs. Maude S. Bell, director of the department, reported.

The figure at the start of this month was 2.857 cases, an increase of 95 since July 1. A much larger increase is expected after Sept. 1 with the new liberalized pension plan becoming effective. Mrs. Bell predicts that by Oct. 1 the pension total in the county will be nearly 4,000.

Cost of old age pensions for the next fiscal year will more than double the $834,000 cost of last year, she said. The new law removes the necessity of recipients having to file a lien against their property. They may also have a private income of $15 a month.

ACTION NEAR ON ONE POSTOFFICE

Only One City Out of 20 in Sheppard's District Will Get Building

Only one new postoffice in the nineteenth congressional district will be constructed this year and selection of the city to get this structure will be made from a list of 20 communities. Upland is listed among the 20 cities. Selection of the city is scheduled to be made within 10 days.

"The third deficiency bill provides funds for construction of federal buildings and provides that the postmaster general, together with the secretary of the treasury, shall make all selections of projects and sites," Congressman Harry R. Sheppard said in a news letter to The News. "I have contacted postoffice department and was informed that selection would be based on a combination of need, population and postal receipts."

Among the cities in this district that are on the approved list and may be in line for the selection are Upland, Ontario, Fontana, Chino and Corona.

Sentiment Grows for New School Building In City

While the number of replies to the questionnaire on the proposed razing of the Fannie D. Noe school is disappointing to the P.-T. A. officials, announcement was made today that 95 replies favored construction of a new building, 14 were opposed, and five were neutral.

A total of 114 letters have been received. Since Thursday night 18 replies have been recorded and of this number, 15 favored a new building, three were opposed and one was neutral.

With much interest being shown in the survey concerning the Fannie D. Noe school building situation, additional comments from parents of pupils are published today.

The comments were written by the parents on a questionnaire recently mailed by the Fannie D. Noe Parent-Teacher association. The parents were asked if they believed the present school building structurally sound or if they thought it advisable to have it replaced through the issuance of bonds. Replies so far indicate preference for a new building.

Fred E. Draper, city councilman, said: "I am satisfied this building does not comply with the minimum standards of safety that have been set up by the state division of architecture and that there is grave possibility of serious injury and death to the pupils and teachers in the event of an earthquake during school hours.

"It is impossible to properly heat and light the basement rooms during the winter months. Wooden stairways between floors and in the corridors are not considered safe in the event of fire and some of the pupils could be trapped in event of fire. There are numerous other structural defects that are not in keeping with present knowledge of how schools should be constructed."

James E. Beitzell, 515 East Fifteenth street, contends that "the city of Upland should be able to provide a modern school building for the grammar grades—as able as any other city. Such an old building does not speak well for the town—and I believe it is unsafe also."

Herbert C. Hall, 690 West Arrow highway, said a heavy quake would demolish the building. "On account of poor lighting of halls, it would be disastrous to students in making their way out of the building during any mishap, such as fire or cave-in. There are no fire escapes on the outside, except through the doors at either end. It does not represent the best interests of the people—is really not the type our town needs to make it more beautiful."

Mrs. George W. West wrote in part: "My husband and I have regretted that the school was not more up-to-date. I, personally, had such a scare during the severe Long Beach earthquake that a brick building of any kind is still a source of uneasiness. . . We feel that the sub-basement rooms are not desirable. . . Also the auditorium is far from attractive and seems to me to be especially risky in case of fire. All major catastrophies aside, we feel that the children should enjoy the advantage of a reinforced concrete structure with all rooms on the street level if possible."

NYLANDER HEARING TO BE HELD SOON

Scope of Wagner Labor Act on Citrus Workers May Be Determined

Citrus growers here will await with interest outcome of a hearing called by Dr. Towne Nyland, regional director for the National Labor Relations board, on the labor troubles at the North Whittier Heights Citrus association.

One of the questions to be answered in that hearing is, "Does citrus packing come under jurisdiction of the Wagner labor act?"

Citrus growers and packers will be given an opportunity to present their side of the question, it being their contention tha packing of fruit is agricultural work, thus exempting the employes from the act.

Dr. Nydander, however, is reported to have declared that the business of packing groups is industrial and that it is interstate commerce and subject to the labor act.

Outcome of the hearing may determine what action may be taken on charges filed against the Upland Citrus association and other citrus groups, named as prejudiced against organized labor.

New Storage Shed For Citrus Group Is Being Started

Construction of a new storage shed for the Upland Heights Orange association has been started, a permit for the work having been issued by the city building department.

Other building permits recently issued follow:

Commercial Rock Co., new office and warehouse; J. M. Thornley, addition to residence occupied by J. W. Blair, East Twenty-fourth street; Mrs. E. A. Dockter, 278 First avenue, addition; Juan Mageua, 719 Blanchard street, store room, and Paul E. Haldeman, 275 South Second avenue, garage.

ACTUAL WORK WILL BE STARTED SOON; WILL ISSUE BONDS

Charles Latimer Advises Chaffey Leaders of Favorable Action

Final approval was given today for construction of the new auditorium on the Chaffey campus by the Public Works Administration. Actual work on the $380,000 building is scheduled to be started within three months, according to H. E. Trautman, president of the Chaffey board of education. He was advised of the final PWA approval in word received from Washington, D. C., by Charles Latimer, enthusiastic worker for approval of the project.

Mr. Trautman plans tomorrow to authorize the architects, Allison & Allison, Los Angeles, to complete the detailed building plans and specifications. Bids will then be called for and contract will be let and work will then bring into reality the long contemplated auditorium.

Nearly a year ago voters in the Chaffey district approved issuance of $195,000 in bonds as the district's direct share of the cost. With approval of this project by the voters, the Chaffey board filed with the PWA a formal request for the project. Since then hope has dimmed, then brightened concerning PWA's final approval. From time to time reports came from Washington that the project was getting favorable consideration.

Today's word of favorable final action in the capital came to Mr. Latimer, long-time resident of Ontario. Charles M. Brown, Redlands Democrat, advised Mr. Latimer, who in turn reported the happy news to Herschel Griffin, assistant Chaffey superintendent.

Mr. Trautman today said:

"While much commendation is due those who have given untiringly of their time and energy, special credit must be given at this juncture to Mr. Latimer, who was influential in breaking the deadlock and bringing the negotiations at Washington to a successful conclusion."

The auditorium will have a capacity for 2,370 persons, according to present plans. The PWA will provide $185,000 of the cost and the Chaffey district cost will be $195,000.

The auditorium site is midway between the Chaffey library and the new high school science building, set back from Euclid avenue about twice the distance of the other buildings.

Purchase of Plane For Use in Forest Patrol Is Proposed

That the county pay $500 toward the purchase of an airplane and share in its operating expense in patrolling the forests was the proposal before the county board of supervisors yesterday. Russell Z. Smith, state forester, requested the appropriation. Decision was delayed.

The state would pay $1000 toward the cost, the state and county jointly hiring a transport pilot to operate the ship on an hourly basis.

1,466 Persons on Relief Rolls Now

On the relief rolls of the county at present are 1,466 persons, an increase of eight over last week, as compared with 1,706 cases a year ago.

Included in the present total are 131 aliens, who were dropped from the WPA rolls. A major increase of relief clients is anticipated before many weeks, there being 354 applicants during last week. Close of the grape harvest is expected to see a large number of aliens asking for aid.

A recent ruling barred aliens from working on WPA projects.

Squatters Take All

Somewhat of an idea as to what may be the fate of taxpayers in California may be gotten by the following from the Puente Journal:

"No one can blame a hungry, desperate man—whether he be our man or the middle west's man—for voting himself a new deal if he gets the opportunity, even if it queers the deal for those who have fed him in his period of extremity. But the nation-wide hunger march on California, which has brought us nearly half a million penniless refugees in less than five years, has most serious implications for California taxpayers.

"Three hundred thousand of our new destitute already are registered voters. One hundred thousand more, coming in from the dust bowl this year, will be qualified voters at the 1938 election. In Los Angeles county one out of every five persons is on relief. And virtually all are registered, as citizenship is a first requisite to securing relief.

"That desolate army—in its desperate desire for a new foothold—may be expected to vote for anything and everything which promises food, work, or government subsidy. It will vote bond issues with abandon; new taxes and new pensions with eager alacrity! And next year's ballot, unfortunately, is tailor-made for spenders. As the lead-off, there's the Garrison revenue bond act, which would reduce the required vote for bond issues from two-thirds to a bare majority. Taxpayers, if that act became effective, would be in jeopardy of being out-voted by the very migrants they have supported!

"It is exceedingly unfortunate, under the circumstances, that the legislature failed to re-enact the 5 per cent limitation on yearly budget increases. Happily, however, a move is under way which may submit the 5 per cent control proviso to the people by initiative. But again, our uninvited guests must be taken into consideration. We can hardly expect relief recipients to vote protection for taxpayers.

"Next year's election, unless California's stable citizenry presents a united front against proposed raids on state and local treasuries, may well turn into a game of 'Squatters Take All!'"

It is really going to be up to the "stable citizenry" to take an interest in the elections of the future. If they do not they will have so many taxes voted on them by the unstable that it will be only a short time until there will be very few left in the stable class. It is a very easy matter for irresponsible persons to vote taxes for someone else to pay. Time was—and not very many years ago—when Americans who were not in the greatest of need would refuse to accept aid; but today the situation is vastly different and many of them are not only accepting aid, but even demanding more and more as time goes by. Apparently they do not believe in that old adage about killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

Golden Genesis

Since the world began, men have fought for gold—or its equivalent.

We know about gold in California; we were sired by it. We have a golden genesis!

We are in a position to understand, then, better than most, the analysis which Samuel O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age, places on the current industrial upheaval in the United States. Some may call it a labor-capital war. Mr. Dunn, however, calls it "the gold rush of 1937," a fight for yellow metal!

But Editor Dunn voices the objection that it is a synthetic gold rush, at best, for instead of being a stampede to open up new fields—producing new wealth—this is a rush to jump the other fellow's diggings. It is "a cash struggle," he asserts, between opposing groups of workers, with one group seeking a bigger share in the national income at the expense of the other. And it is foredoomed to failure, he insists, for the reason that there's not enough gold (or national income) to go around.

The total national production and income last year averaged only $1,900 per family. "There is no way to distribute that much income so as to provide an abundant life for any large class of people," comments Editor Dunn.

Then he comes to his conclusion: "Let's open up new gold fields!" Instead of pitting the 40 per cent called "labor"—in industry and transportation—against the 40 per cent who work on farms and in rural communities, and the 20 per cent who comprise large and small business men, professional men, "white collar" workers, etc., he suggests that we go it the solid way and get to work opening up new channels of production—creating new income. He recalls that we doubled production in this country (doubled the gold flowing from our production) in the ten years following the depression of the nineties. That was a real gold rush, he suggests, and it can be duplicated in the ten years ahead—if we open up new fields instead of working over old diggings.

Editor Dunn, at one time or another, must have been a Californian. He certainly talks our language!

Motorists will do well to keep in mind the new traffic laws which go into effect after Thursday of this week. Towns and counties will also have some new laws to observe. For instance, no motorists should forget that he will be subject to a fine if he fails to use the courtesy beam of his lights when passing cars coming from the opposite direction at night. And as for cities and counties—henceforth all stop signs posted at arterial highways must either be illuminated or have bright reflecting surfaces to make them easily visible at night. There has been many an auto accident caused when a driver unintentionally went through a "stop" sign that he did not see because it was neither illuminated nor in a place where it was easy to see. These are two of the new laws that should help lessen automobile accidents.

Says W. E. W. in the Covina Argus: "It's funny that so many of these attack stories start off with: 'I had spent the evening at a cocktail lounge'." Where, we wonder, would one expect to be a more likely place for an "attack" to occur? They do say some of those cocktails put some great ideas into people's heads. They also make 'em walk funny—and in many instances put 'em in such condition they can't walk. However, it is not difficult to see how the testimony would have more influence with the judge—or the jury—if the attack occurred some other place than a cocktail lounge.

Some days ago Lily Pons refused to sing at the Hollywood Bowl when a couple hundred people had gathered around to hear her rehearse. Said she: "Only the birds sing free." And does Lily deny that she is a song bird?

The Ellery F. Wrights Spend Vacation At Lake Mary

Mr. and Mrs. Ellery F. Wright of 401 Euclid avenue returned on Sunday from a most delightful vacation, a week spent at Lake Mary in the High Sierras. Going north through Owens valley, they stopped briefly at Lone Pine, Independence, Big Pine and other interesting places on the way to Lake Mary, which is in a beautiful rugged section near June lake and a short distance south of Yosemite valley. They occupied a housekeeping cottage near Crystal Crag lodge and spent the time resting or hiking just as they pleased. On long hikes into the mountains, far from motor roads, they found excellent fishing and on several occasions made 10 and 12 hour excursions into the forest, where there are a great many wild flowers.

Each evening they returned to the lodge for the social gathering of all the campers. They visited Walter Babcock, Ontario druggist, in his well equipped mountain cabin on Lake George and they also enjoyed a trip to Mono lake.

Mr. Wright, a partner in the local Ford agency, returned Monday to his business and Mrs. Wright has resumed her duties as office secretary and bookkeeper for the Magnolia Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Sister Entertained at Mission Inn by W. F. Goodban

As a delightful birthday courtesy for his sister, Mrs. Mina Fulton, who arrived Friday with her daughter, Mrs. May Cooper, from their home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, W. F. Goodban was host Monday at a luncheon held in Mission Inn, Riverside.

Mrs. Fulton observed her eightieth birthday anniversary on that day and in planning the trip to California she carefully arranged to arrive in Upland in time to celebrate her birthday here.

An attractively appointed several course luncheon was served in the inn's picturesque patio and when the management learned the guest of honor was celebrating her eightieth birthday, an extra course of choice fruits was served.

Following the luncheon, the organ recital in the music room was enjoyed and later the group toured the famous museum and spent some time in the curio shop.

Every phase of the celebration, the drive to and from Riverside, the luncheon and the interesting hours spent in the inn, were greatly enjoyed and Mr. Goodban, the hospitable host, was quite happy in his sister's very evident pleasure.

In the party, besides Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Cooper, were Mr. Goodban's daughter, Mrs. Ernest C. Mehl; his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Goodban, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Goodban.

Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Cooper are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Goodban at their home, 665 North San Antonio avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Boulton Home From Alaska

A leisurely voyage along the inland waterway from Seattle to Skagway, Alaska, was included in a delightful vacation trip just concluded by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boulton of 604 North Euclid avenue, who returned home Saturday.

Accompanied by Mrs. Boulton's sister, Mrs. Lula H. Robinson of Phoenix, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Boulton went by train to Seattle and from that city they sailed for Skagway in southeastern Alaska, selecting a boat that stoppd at various ports because of the opportunity afforded to see more of the northern country and to prolong the ocean trip.

The sea was very calm along the route and only once or twice, when the ship went far enough out to lose sight of land, was the water rough enough to cause any physical uneasiness. None of the Boulton party was seasick.

Major stops were made at Ketchikan, Petersburg, Juneau and Skagway, with numerous calls being made at smaller places to take on or unload cargo for the large salmon canneries. Those stops at fisheries were the only part of the entire trip the Boultons would have been willing to eliminate. They did not find the "fishy smells" so very pleasant

The scenery they found exceptionally interesting, the towering snow-capped peaks and the lower green wooded mountains forming a bautiful background for the broken, rugged coast line.

Skagway, now claiming a population of not more than 500, once was a city of some 20,000, a thriving supply base for many interior mining towns in the gold rush days. The Boultons remained here long enough to make short trips to several nearby places of interest, including the Mendenhall glacier

The weather was delightfully invigorating, being cool enough at times for an overcoat. The temperature in the winter, they were told, seldom goes below zero.

They saw but few wild flowers ahound Skagwey, but the cultivated flowers were wonderful, both in size and color

The return trip from Seattle was made by train and Mr and Mrs Boulton came home very much refreshed by their vacation.

Mrs. Robinson is now in Riverside where she will spend some time with her daughter.

The Earl H. Johnsons And Billy Moore Return Home

After an absence of nearly three weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Johnson and their nephew, Billy Moore, returnedFriday evening to their home, 418 North Laurel avenue, rested and refreshed by a leisurely motor trip up the north coast.

Traveling each day just as they pleased and stopping to enjoy any unusual incidents or interesting places that caught their attention, they followed the new scenic coast route through California, Oregon and Washington. They were particularly impressed with the beauty of the Oregon coast, where they found perfect weather.

At the small fishing village of Anacordes on the north coast of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson boarded a ferry and enjoyed a wonderful trip through the picturesque San Juan islands to Victoria, B. C.

Victoria, although considerably modernized since the Johnsons' last visit there, is still a quaint and most beautiful town and they enjoyed a several days visit there.

While in Victoria Mr. and Mrs. Johnson met Mr. and Mrs. Ronald H. McLennan of Alta Loma and enjoyed sightseeing with them.

The Johnsons returned to Seattle on the Canadian steamer, Princess Elizabeth, and motored home, again over the coast route.

Master Billy, son of Mrs. Eva G. Moore, who possesses his full share of interest in all that goes on, was a busy boy during the entire trip. He was especially fascinated by the long boat ride among the many green islands.

NEW MINING SPURT GETTING STARTED

Discovery of New Gold, Radium, Helium Cause of Work —Woman Gets Wealth

Of much interest to mining men of the county and the southland is the rich ore recently found near Randsburg. Discovery of radium, helium and a new supply of gold is the cause for a new mining boom.

Radium ore is scarce but Mrs. Josie Bishop has discovered radium ore on her property assaying $7,000 a ton. She has signed lease options with a syndicate of Los Angeles and Beverly Hills mining men.

Mrs. Bishop, who is 60 years of age, said she discovered the radium four years ago but kept it secret until she secured clear title to her 27 acres. Silver assaying $365 per ton and an asserted rich source for helium also are present on her claims, she said.

Mrs. Bishop displayed a stack of telegrams almost a foot high, most of them from persons seeking an interest in her property.

Radium is found commercially only in the Arctic circle. A new source will be of great potential value in scientific and medical circles, it was believed.

A three-year excavation task, during which 6,000,000 tons of rock will be removed from the famous Yellow Aster mine will be started immediately by the Macco Construction Co.

The "mountain of gold" which will be torn down is not far from Mrs. Bishop's mines. The Yellow Aster in the past was one of the richest producers in the desert. The new vein is believed connected with the old shaft.

The Macco company will work for the Anglo-American Mining Co. at Randsburg. A three-yard steam shovel and 12 big trucks will be used in tearing down the peak, according to George von Kleinsmid of Macco's Bakersfield office.

More than 12,000,000,000 pounds of rock and dirt, a total of 3,000,000 cubic yards, will be removed, the greatest job of its kind even undertaken on the Mojave.

The Anglo-American has been sinking shafts and following enriched gold veins heretofore, but the present plans call for putting all of the ore through stamp mills.

SERIES OF SPECIAL SERMONS PLANNED

Cucamonga Pastor To Deliver Series of Sermons on Special Subjects

In September, following his Labor day message on the first Sunday in the month, the Rev. Wm. A. Tieck, pastor of the Cucamonga Community church, will engage in a series of special Sunday morning sermons that will continue during the remainder of the year, according to an announcement made by the minister.

The same fields of thought will be given sermonic emphasis at the same time in a number of churches in Southern California and it is this general endeavor that the local pastor is cooperating.

The themes will have to do with the great basic truths of the Christian faith and message. They will be interpreted in terms of the needs of men and women of today and also will be related to special occasions and holidays occurring during the period.

The pastor is making special preparation and effort to the end that each of the sermons will minister definitely to the community and to the personal needs of its people.

The effort is one of a series of special endeavors planned to bring the Community church into its highest usefulness in the coming year.

W.C.T.U. Will Send Ten Delegates to County Convention

Combining a picnic with their regular meeting, members of the Upland Woman's Christian Temperance Union gathered in Galvin park in Ontario Friday in an all day session.

Routine business matters were given consideration at a meeting held in the morning with Mrs. Ralph H. Marr, president, presiding.

At the noon hour a contributed picnic luncheon was served and was followed by the afternoon session. Because Mrs. Marr was called to Los Angeles, Mrs. Fred Hoppe, vice-president, presided in the afternoon and the devotional service was led by Mrs. Lucy Wilhoite.

The county W. C. T. U. convention is scheduled to be held in Chino on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 2 and 3, and during the afternoon session delegates were selected to represent the Upland union, they being Mrs. E. C. Chapman, Mrs. Jay Rogers, Mrs. Louise Wilson, Mrs. A. E. Clauson, Miss Lillian J. Williams, Mrs. W. L. Keown, Mrs. H. S. Sparks, Mrs. C. W. Clewett, Miss Flora Morley and Mrs. Eberle.

Alternate delegates named are Miss Ruth Crane, Mrs. S. E. Couch, Mrs. Lewis Jenison, Mrs. C. D. Daniels and Mrs. H. O. Henderson.

Each union has been requested to provide a five minute program during the convention and Mrs. Jay Rogers will arrange for the local union's participation.

The next meeting of the union will be held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Jenison, 668 Second avenue, on Friday, Sept. 17. A contributed dish luncheon will be served and the women of the Upland Church of the Nazarene will provide the program.

Independent Unions Formed in Southland As Meeting Is Held

Several representatives of West End Independent Citrus Workers Unions attended a meeting in Los Angeles Saturday night, where an association of all Independent Union men of Southern California was formed.

The name of the new group is the League of Independent Unions. Officials say that the L. I. U. is definitely opposed to affiliation with either the A. F. L. or the C. I. O. The reasons for this will be explained by some noted speakers at an open meeting to be held in the Upland junior high school auditorium soon.

Articles of incorporation were drawn up immediately and sent to Sacramento.

The mass meeting committee, including Clarence Farrin of Upland, reported that the mass meeting will be held some time in September.

A Congress of Speakers was formed to aid in the enlargement of existing independent unions and to help new ones get started. Within two weeks there will be an open meeting in Upland especially for all citrus workers and other interested people. Reasons for the independent unions and the methods of forming them will be explained at this meeting.

HELP KIDNEYS
To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste
Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.
You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!
